FORMAL NOTIFICATION

Of the Democratic Presidential Nominees.

Scenes at the Executive Mansion at

Albany—Cleveland's Response—

Union Hotel, Saratoga.

ALBANY, July 31.—The Committee appointed by the National Democratic Convention at Chicago to notify Cleveland and Hendricks of their nomination to the Presidency and Vice Presidency waited upon Governor Cleveland at Albany Tuesday evening, and after an impromptu speech by Mr. Vilas, Mr. N. M. Bell, of the Committee, read the following paper to the Governor, which had been signed by the members of the Committee:

"SIR.—In accordance with a custom befitting the nature of the communication, the undersigned, representing the several States and Territories of the Union, were appointed a Committee by the National Democratic Convention which assembled in Chicago on 8th day of the current month, to perform the pleasant office, which, by this means, we have the honor to execute, of informing you of your nomination as the candidate of the Democratic party in the ensuing election for the office of President of the United States. A declaration of the principles upon which the Democracy go before the people, with the hope of establishing and maintaining them in the Government, was made in the Convention, and an engrossed copy thereof is submitted in connection with this communication for your consideration. We trust the approval of your judgment will follow an examination of this expression of opinions and policy and upon the political controversy now made up we invite your acceptance of the elected leadership to which you have been chosen. The election of a President is an event of the utmost importance to the people of America; prosperity, growth, happiness, peace and liberty even may depend upon its wise ordering. Your unanimous nomination is proof that the Democracy believe your election will most contribute to secure these objects. We assure you that in the anxious responsibilities you must assume as a candidate, you will have the steadfast, cordial support of the friends of the cause you well represent; and in the execution of the duties of the high office—which we confidently expect from the wisdom of the nation to be conferred upon you—you may securely rely for approving aid upon the patriotism, honor and intelligence of this free people."

Every one was intent on Cleveland's reply. In an easy-flowing, but earnest manner, the Governor said:

"MR. CHAIRMAN AND GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION:—Your formal announcement does not, of course, convey to me the first information of the result of the Convention lately held by the Democracy of the nation. And yet, when I listen to your message, I see about me representatives from all parts of the land, of the party which, claiming to be the party of the people, ask them to entrust to it the administration of their government, and when I consider, under the influence of the stern reality which present surroundings create, that I have been chosen to represent the plans, purposes and the policy of the Democratic party, I am profoundly impressed by the solemnity of the occasion, and by the responsibility of my position."

"Though I gratefully appreciate it, I do not at this moment congratulate myself for the distinguished honor which has been conferred upon me, because my mind is full of anxious desire to perform well the part which has been assigned to me. Nor do I at this moment forget that the rights and interests of more than 50,000,000 of my fellow-citizens are involved in our efforts to gain Democratic supremacy. This reflection presents to my mind the consideration which, more than all others, gives to the action of my party in convention assembled its most sober and serious effect."

"The party and its representatives which ask to be entrusted at the hands of the people with the keeping of all that concerns their welfare and their safety, should only ask it with the full appreciation of the sacredness of the trust and with a firm resolve to administer it faithfully and well. [Applause.] I am a Democrat because I believe that this truth lies at the foundation of true Democracy. [Loud applause.] I have kept the faith because I believe it rightly and fairly administered and applied, Democratic doctrines and measures will insure the happiness, contentment and prosperity of the people. [Applause.] If, in the contest upon which we now enter, we steadfastly hold to the underlying principles of our party creed, and at all times keep in view the people's good, we shall be strong, because we are true to ourselves, and because the plain and independent voters of the land will seek by their suffrages to compress their release from party tyranny where there should be submission to the popular will, and their protection from party corruption where there should be devotion to the people's interests. [Applause, and cries of 'Good, good!']"

"These thoughts lend a consecration to our cause; and we go forth, not merely to gain a partisan advantage, but pledged to give to those who trust us, the utmost benefit of a pure and honest administration of National affairs. [Applause.] No higher purpose or motive can stimulate us to supreme effort or urge us to continuous and earnest labor and effective party organization. Let us not fail in this, and we may confidently hope to reap the full reward of patriotic services well performed. [Applause.]"

"I have thus called to mind some simple truths, and trite though they are it seems to me we do well to dwell upon them at this time. I shall soon, I hope, signify in the usual formal manner my acceptance of the nomination which has been tendered to me. In the meantime I gladly greet you all as co-workers in a noble cause." [Loud applause and cries of "good, good!"]

There was a season of handshaking at the close of the Governor's speech. Then the sliding doors were thrown open revealing a well-spread table in the back parlor. A hearty welcome was given to all to refresh themselves, an invitation which was generally accepted. By 5:30 farewells and God-speed were said and the Governor was left alone with his household. The Notification Committee were subsequently entertained by the Fort Orange Club.

SARATOGA, N. Y., July 30.—The Committee appointed at the Chicago Convention to notify Hendricks of his nomination for the Vice Presidency has arrived here. They will hold a meeting to sign an address to Hendricks and fix upon an hour for the formal ceremony. The address expresses the same sentiments as that to Cleveland. Colonel William F. Vilas will make the opening speech. Hendricks says he is ready to meet the Committee any hour they may name, and that his reply will be very brief.

The Committee was in session nearly an hour. Messrs. Vilas, Hooker, Walter and Stockton were appointed as a sub-committee to ascertain Mr. Hendricks' pleasure. They reported that 2 o'clock would suit his convenience and that time was fixed. A resolution was then passed extending thanks to Wm. F. Vilas and N. M. Bell for the "dignified and efficient manner" in which they have performed their respective duties as Chairman and Secretary of the Committee. The Committee then adjourned.

The large parlors at the Grand Union were filled by 2 o'clock. The lady guests, in summer toilets, occupied lounges. The Committee were arranged in a semi-circle in the middle of the room. The appearance was decidedly more picturesque than that witnessed at the Executive Mansion. Hon. David Davis and wife were conspicuous among the spectators. Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks entered the room shortly after 2 o'clock, and were greeted by the clapping of hands. Hon. W. F. Vilas, after a brief pause, stepped forward and delivered his address. It was an eloquent and impressive oration, referring gracefully to Mr. Hendricks' distinguished services and affectionate regard in which the Democracy of the Nation hold him.

NEWSPAPER SUSPENDED.

A Sun That Has Set to Rise No More

CINCINNATI, July 31.—The Cincinnati Sun, formerly the News-Journal, has indefinitely suspended publication. Who it is that suspended its publication does not appear, as its ownership has been wrapped in mystery ever since it rose to shine on this public.

Some three weeks ago, to give the paper the appearance of an owner, J. L. Keck's name was hoisted at the head of the editorial column, but that, it is said, was purely a fiction, as no one for a moment supposed Mr. Keck had any stock in the paper.

When it was announced over the counter of the Sun counting room to-day that the public auction of the Sun concern would not take place, as advertised, and that the property would be sold at private sale, the employees were told that their services were no longer needed, and that they could get what money was due them by calling at the Enquirer counting room. This gives additional color to the statement that the Sun is the property of J. R. McLean, of the Enquirer, although it has been running as a strong Blaine paper.

The Sun property consists of its presses and material and the Associated Press franchise, the latter of which cost its owner or owners some $55,000. It also has control of the morning report of the United Press report for a year. It is said that when McLean came into possession of the News-Journal it was his intention at that time to kill the paper and that he repeatedly offered it for sale and buying it in has been one of his methods of attaining that end. It is stated to-day that the entire subscription list of the News-Journal and subsequently the list was put into the boiler furnace and burned up so that whoever may now purchase the material, or whoever may start another journal with a view of securing the Sun's patronage, will be unable to obtain a list of its circulation or enjoy any of its good will. This leaves the field—particularly the Democratic field—in this city, alone to the Enquirer. No paper can start without obtaining a press franchise, and this McLean owns and seems willing to carry the dead load to keep competitors out of the field.

Fourth race, purse $400, handicap for all ages, distance one mile over four hurdles: Gay first, Beaverwyck second, Quebec third. Time 1:54. Mutuals paid $10.00.

Treachery Repaid With Death.

SALT LAKE, Utah, July 31.—V. Clary, the second of the two foot pads who robbed the stage between Ketchum, on Wood River Idaho, and Galena, was traced by the officer to East Fork, and called on to surrender. He agreed to if they would take him to Hilday, but when close to one of the posse he jumped at him with a knife, cut him across the forehead, and tried to wrench his revolver away from him. He was successful, when two other officers shot him, one ball piercing the head and killing him instantly.

Bank Authorized.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The Comptroller of the Currency has authorized the First National Bank of Beloit, Kansas, to commence business, with a capital of $50,000. The Comptroller of the Currency has declared a second dividend of 20 per cent. in favor of the creditors of the First National Bank of Monmouth, Illinois.

Loyal to the Guests.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Inspector Byrnes, of the Central Police force, has been notified that Wm. B. Bigelow, for many years night clerk at the Grand Union Hotel, had absconded with the receipts of the restaurant amounting to $800. About $20,000 worth of jewelry, belonging to the guests, which was also in Bigelow's custody, was found intact.

Logan Tongue-Tied.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Senator Logan who has just returned from his western trip declined to talk about politics or the political situation. When asked about his western trip he merely replied that the soldiers at Minneapolis met and had a pleasant time, and that he enjoyed the trip very much.

IN TWENTY-TWO ROUNDS

Jack Dempsey Polishes George Full-

James Off Nicely.

A Desperate Contest at Great Kills

Point, Staten Island, Wednesday

Morning—Dempsey too Tall

for Fulljames.

NEW YORK, July 31.—After many postponements and much trouble the glove fight between Jack Dempsey and James Fulljames was brought off at Greatkills Point, Staten Island, at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. The ropes and stakes were quickly placed in position, but the wet sandy soil was so yielding that it almost fell down. The men were both determined to settle the matter, and no objection was raised. Fulljames was first to enter the ring. Dempsey weighed 137 pounds and stands five feet eight and a half inches, and is twenty-two years of age. Fulljames weighed 120 pounds, stands five feet four and a half inches and is thirty-two years of age. No time was wasted. John Flord and friend attended Fulljames; Arthur Chambers and Matthew Watson attended Dempsey. Ned Mallahan was referee. H. Price kept time.

Round One—Fulljames led off at the face, but fell short. Dempsey's straight countered him in the mouth; then he got one on the cheek, heavily drawing the first blood from Fulljames. This claim was allowed. In a clinch which followed Dempsey fell and Fulljames laid across his chest. Time, 3:56.

Round Two—Fulljames made a play at the body, but was always short, while Dempsey's body blows all told. Time, 3:09.

Round Three—Work was very light until Dempsey knocked Fulljames down by body blow. Time, 3:13.

Round Four—After a few light blows Dempsey put in an upper-cut. Round ended in 1:08.

Round Five—Fulljames short at body again, Dempsey hitting him on the body, mouth and nose. Time, 2:15.

Round Six—All short armed work. Fulljames got down to avoid punishment. Time, 1:30.

Round Seven—Fulljames was sent to earth by a flush hit on the nose. Time, 55 seconds.

Round Eight—Again Fulljames received a general pummeling, but managed to get one or two blows in. Time, 1:32.

Round Nine—Much sugging was indulged in during the bout. Fulljames is bleeding freely from a cut over his eye. Time, 1:58.

Round Ten—Dempsey planted a left-hander over Fulljames' face but never used his right, as it had been disabled in the first round by one of Fulljames' blows. Time, 1:53.

Rounds Eleven, Twelve, Thirteen and Fourteen were very short, and invariably ended by Fulljames going down or being thrown. He could not reach his tall antagonist. Thus early his friends wanted him to give in.

Round Fifteen—Dempsey landed a straight left-hander and knocked Fulljames down. Time, 1:02.

The latter finding he couldn't get a foot hold took off his shoes.

Round Sixteen and Seventeen—Short body blows prevailed. Fulljames went down.

Round Eighteen—Fulljames is bleeding from cuts over both eyes, but fought gamely and fell from weakness. Time, 3:07.

Round Nineteen—Fulljames tried to lead, but fell from the force of his own blow. The round lasted forty seconds.

Round Twenty—Fulljames was hit on the chin, ending the round. Thirty-nine seconds.

Round Twenty-one—Dempsey got home three blows on the nose, chest and ear, the latter knocking Fulljames off his pins.

Round Twenty-two and last—Dempsey led off and landed one on Fulljames' nose. His next attack was on the cheek. This sent Fulljames down in a heap. His seconds seeing their man beaten threw up the sponge. Fulljames protested, but his backer was satisfied he had done his best, and took him out of the ring.

As soon as the referee gave his verdict Dempsey walked over to his defeated antagonist and presented him with a $50 bill. The whole fight lasted thirty-nine minutes.

DICTATORSHIP.

Dr. Nunez, President of Colombia,

Will Rule by the Bayonet.

PANAMA, July 31.—Dr. Nunez, the President of the Republic, is on his way to the Capital to assume the direction of affairs. There were rumors that he would not be allowed to take his seat as President, that his party had deposed him; that the Colombian Guard, on whose bayonets he depended, had become hostile; and that the important State of Cauca was up in revolution. Nunez is practically a dictator, particularly in the use of power to keep himself in his position. He is a shrewd politician, and has managed to secure the passage of a law which places in his hands the military power of the country, and permits its interference in affairs of the different States. The "Law of Public Order," so-called, creation of the fertile brain of this Colombian ruler, announces the obligation of the National Government to maintain order in the different States, and to sustain the authority of the State Governments if threatened by revolution. Having secured the passage of this law, it only remained for him to secure the station of persons in the different States who were his devoted friends and adherents, and perpetuate their authority by the military arm. Certain recent movements indicate much dissatisfaction with this order of things, and have given the rumors alluded to the appearance of probability. The Conservative party, the most powerful among the better classes, begins again to exert its influence and advance its pretensions; and it is possible they may introduce into the country a renewal of the scenes and struggles of the war of 1876.

Rapist Lynched.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 31.—News is received here of the lynching of Dan Oliver, a negro, at Roseville, Logan County. It is charged that Oliver attempted to outrage the daughter of a prominent citizen, but no names and no additional particulars have yet been received.

A Mongolian Doomed.

PENDLETON, Ore., July 31.—Jim Lee, a Chinaman, was yesterday sentenced to hang August 23, for murdering his Chinese mistress

CROPS IN THE NORTHWEST.

Wheat Affected With Rust and Smut

—Other Crop Prospects.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 31.—Reports from Mill Bank and Big Stone City, on the Hastings & Dakota Railroad, say that smut is appearing in many fields, and fears are entertained that it will spread. This section was greatly damaged last year by smut, and its appearance is discouraging to the farmers. The soft wheat sown in these localities last spring was tainted with smut, and the fact has been demonstrated over and over again that where smutty wheat is sown, smutty wheat will be reaped. One farm near Big Stone City has 600 acres of hard wheat, and it is entirely free from smut.

Along the line of the Winona & St. Peter Railroad in Dakota a good deal of rust is seen, and many fields are badly damaged. This condition is also true on the Fargo Southern Railroad to some extent. While rust is not appearing generally, the localities affected will be of sufficient area to decrease materially the yield, if not soon checked.

A Fargo dispatch says that the outlook is little changed in that part of Dakota. Although the condition of affairs shows no radical change, still a reduction in estimates is necessary to indicate truly the condition of affairs. The crop will not go over an average of sixteen bushels in that section, but this result is brought about by a strange divergence in the yield. Two pieces of wheat, side by side, will show a prospective difference of ten bushels in yield, and it is stated that this is solely caused by either poor plowing, bad seed, or poor cultivation. In many fields the yield will be twenty-five bushels, but in others of the class before mentioned the crop will be small.

Oats uniformly are looking fine, as also are barley and the few fields of corn.

The elevators have encouraging reports, and with the exception of a small hail storm in the neighborhood of Minto, which damaged a few fields, there has been no damage from storms.

The harvest in Minnesota will begin the first week in August in nearly all parts of the State. A few fields are ready now and some cutting will be done this week, but the work will not be general before August 5 to 7. In Dakota the harvest will begin about the same time, except in the northern part, where it will be a week later. In the James River Valley, and also in the Missouri River Valley, crops are almost ripe now and cutting may begin on August 1.

THE LOST OSBORNE.

Further Details of the Lake Disaster.

CLEVELAND, O., 31.—The details of the collision between the propeller Osborne and the steamship Alberta, off White Fish Point, Sunday night, are meagre. A dispatch from Sheboygan says the disaster occurred in a dense fog, six miles off White Fish Point. The Osborne blew three whistles. The Alberta answered and checked her speed down to seven miles an hour, but in a moment the Osborne appeared under the Alberta's bow.

The Alberta struck the Osborne between the mizzen and main rigging on the starboard side, cutting her almost in twain. While they were wedged together the captain of the Osborne and his wife went up the spar and got on the Alberta. Passengers volunteered to save the captain's children and a young woman. He also tried to save some of the crew, but the boats separated and the Osborne went down with the steward and four others of the crew in ten minutes in about twenty-five fathoms of water.

TERRORIZERS

Who Attempted to Capture a Town

Are Worsted.

PARSON, Kan., July 31.—Navasota, a negro, who assaulted a Missouri Pacific engineer at the Belmont House last fall with a razor, nearly severing his head from his shoulder and made good his escape to Indian Territory, came up from that rendezvous Monday night, accompanied by two lesser lights in crime and undertook the capture of the town. They commenced by firing into the air, and when the officers approached they opened fire upon them. A battle ensued, in which one of the negroes was shot in the leg and captured. Navasota and the other escaped in the darkness, but at daybreak one of them was captured. Navasota is yet at liberty, but will probably be caught, as the Mayor gave order to capture him dead or alive.

TROUBLE ANTICIPATED.

Vigilants at Minneapolis Watching for Cantieri's Return.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 31.—Those who think the trouble in regard to the murder of Officer Laughlin is over are probably mistaken. It is said on the street that an organization has been effected to see that Cantieri is never returned to Minneapolis alive. It is stated that a watch is kept up on all trains and vigilants will board the one upon which Cantieri is a passenger. The plan is to rescue him from the officers at a suitable point and lynch him. It is said that the mob about the jail Monday night was not there for the purpose of lynching Cantieri, but to kill any of his friends who attempted a rescue. It is certain that many in the mob were fully armed.

Kidnapped and Deserted.

CINCINNATI, July 31.—Chris Albriger, 11, a bright little fellow, was this morning committed to the House of Refuge. He tells a story to the effect that two weeks ago, while hanging about the depot at East Wheeling where he resided with his parents, a man induced him to get on the train. He then brought him to Cincinnati, where he was deserted in the depot a few minutes after his arrival. The S. P. C. A. placed him in the Children's Home until his parents could be heard from, but having been detected in several acts of stealing the Home authorities refused to keep him, and he was accordingly sent out.

Ground for Obtaining Pensions.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Acting Secretary

Goslin, in a pension case, has decided that claimants who, in their original declaration allege broadly general disability, such as impaired health, may subsequently present supplementary affidavits, specifying the diseases causing disability, which will be regarded a part of claimant's original declaration.

Will Retreat.

CAIRO, July 31.—The Mudir of Dongola telegraphed that he will commence to retreat toward Cairo on the 10th of August.
